

Terex Part

Terex Parts - Terex Forklifts takes immense delight in manufacturing quality equipment that helps better their customers' performance while standing by their mission to offer a cost effective yet consistent product line. Through several divestures and acquisitions designed to expand the product offering, Terex has of late expanded dramatically. They have improved their geographic coverage to make it possible for them to supply quality standards and value for their broad consumer base.

Remaining a competitive player in the mechanized equipment sector, Terex is building a franchise under the Terex brand name. The company is incorporating their previous brand names for some of their components in conjunction business the Terex brand for a smooth transition process. Presently, Terex goods are principally marketed under the Terex name. Many of the following historic brand names and transitional names include: ATC, Amida, American Truck Company, American, Advance, Bartell, Benford, Bendini, Bid-Well, CMI, CMI-Cifali, CMI Johnson-Ross, Cedarapids, Canica, Comedil, Demag, ELJay, Franna, Fermac, Finlay, Fuchs, Genie, Hi-Ranger, Jaques, Load King, Morrison, O&K, Peiner, PPM, Powerscreen, Pegson, Reedrill, Schaeff, Simplicity, Standard Havens, Tatra, TerexLift, Telelect and Unit Rig.

Terex has shown steady growth, purchasing PPM Cranes, in 1995 while divesting Clark Material Handling in 1995. In 1997 Terex acquires Telelect and Simon-RO. BPI Handlers in Baraga, Michigan is also acquired this same year.

Acquiring O&K Mining and Payhauler in 1998, allowed Terex to nurture their mining business. The same year their crane offering expanded their operations greatly with the acquisitions of Gru Comedil, TerexLift, American Crane and Peiner. A Light Building business soon followed in 1999 when Terex acquired Amida, Bartell and Benford. They quickly became a leader within the crushing and screening industry by buying Cedarapids, Powerscreen, BL Pegson, Re-Tech, and Finlay. Franna, Kooi and Princeton crane suppliers were also added to Terex in 1999.

By the year 2000, Terex expanded into the Compact Equipment industry, acquiring Fermac who is a maker specializing in tractor loader backhoes. Their Light Construction operations continued to expand business with the acquisition of Coleman Engineering. This same year, Terex divested Moffett, Kooi and Princeton.

Terex beefed up its Roadbuilding division in 2001, operations with the purchases of Bid-well, Load King, CMI, Jaques and Atlas.

A few of the acquisitions that took place in 2002 helped allow Terex to develop into a leader in their respective categories. Advance Mixer helped boost Terex into the concrete mixing market, while Demag helped Terex Cranes become a leader in the crane market. Buying German suppliers Fuchs and Schaeff placed Terex in a top position in the Compact Equipment category. Genie became a principal maker of Aerial Work Platforms. This busy year was completed business with the purchases of EPAC and Pacific Utility, which offered company-owned distribution for Terex Utilities.

Tatra, a producer of heavy-duty vehicles intended for on and off-road industrial and military purposes were purchased in 2003. Buying Combatel and Commercial Body the same year enabled Terex to continue to expand its company-owned Terex Utilities distribution.

In the year 2004, Terex purchased a producer of surface drilling equipment used in mining, construction and utility markets, called Reedrill. Also in the same year, Noble CE (formerly known as Terex Mexico) was purchased by Terex. They manufacture high capacity surface mining vehicles and also manufacture several parts for other Terex companies.
